

Grade 1 Newsletter – May in Review

What an action-packed month we have had in Grade 1! I am so proud of the students for their hard work and adaptability. Read below to find out what we learned!

In English Language, we finished our Cornerstone book with a unit on friendships. We also read our second novel, “Nate the Great and the Monster Mess,” which we loved! We will finish out our school year with lots of fun reading, writing, and spelling activities!

In Mathematics, the month of May was all about data and graphing! We practiced creating bar graphs, tally charts, and pictographs. In June we will complete a unit on money!

In Social Studies, we discussed what it’s like to grow up and the special events and experiences we have in our lives! Our last unit will explore global citizenship and what it means to be diverse citizens of the world!

In Science, structures were the focus of the month! We also learned about architects and engineers. Science next month will feature nocturnal animals and fun experiments!

In Art, we had a great time creating portraits of ourselves as babies and adults to go along with our social studies unit! The last month of the year will feature lots of fun, colorful summer art.

Happy May!
