Projects, Experiments, and Essays

Projects

A lot of this year will revolve around creating and synthesizing information.

Students can recall and summarize, and we want to take a step further in their learning process.

Experiments

Being part of and observing different experiments in science will be the core of the lessons.

Students will be encouraged to formally write lab reports in their notebooks, collect data, hypothesize, and draw conclusions.

Essays

We will be doing a fair bit of writing this year. I want to focus on a few different things:

- +persuasive texts
- +informative texts
- +descriptive texts
- +narrative texts.
