

Grade 4 September News

Language Arts...

We are currently reading the novel "Charlotte's Web," while covering basic grammatical principles in the English language. Examples such as verbs, nouns, pronouns, focusing on vocabulary/spelling words.

Mathematics...

We are starting off the year review integers, focusing on adding and subtracting 4-digit numbers, and skipping zero's during subtraction. We are also covering some aspects of basic algebra.

Science...

We begin the year investigating habitats, understanding the difference between organisms and species, while also distinguishing habitats from community.

History...

We are very excited to start the new academic year and we begin our semester with some fundamental knowledge of history. We looked at different historical sources, how historians find information about the past, the timeline of history and how we count the years, decades, centuries and millenniums, the way we do.
