

Grade 7 November News

Language Arts...

Students have worked diligently throughout November and were able to finish the second unit in the Keystone book about where journeys can take us. Students reviewed letter formats and practiced writing e-mails with a word limit. We looked at several new grammar concepts and reviewed previous topics. We completed a newspaper writing assignment which helped us to practice these skills.

Mathematics...

Students have been allowed the opportunity to actively participate and compete against one another in various math activities. These activities covered the fundamentals of using logic, multiplication, and division.

Science...

Students have completed the second science unit and are eagerly working on unit three: the digestive system. We learned how food is the building material and source of energy and about different vitamins, mineral salts, and water.

History...

Our semester project is behind us and we are now quickly moving through a bit of Polish history. We have covered the January Uprising and its aftermath as well as the Germanisation of Poles under the different partitions.
