

Grade 8 November News

Language Arts...

Students have completed unit two with the planning and writing of a personal narrative. They reviewed passive voice as well as regular and irregular past participles. They continue to work on spelling and practicing other important writing concepts. Recently, they wrote sentences using homophones to practice them in context.

Mathematics...

Students have been able to display all that they have learned throughout the semester in various math group activities. The activities covered the basic fundamentals of division, multiplication, and the appropriate use of logic while making real world connections.

Science...

Students have finished up the genetics unit, focusing on inheritance of different blood groups and the influences of the environment. They also took a look at mutations, their causes, effects, and different disorders and genetic diseases.

History...

The class worked on presentations and effectively sharing information with their peers. We also covered a bit of Polish history specifically postwar and communism in Poland.
