

Grade 1 Newsletter – February and March in Review

Introduction...

February was a big month; we read our first novel and participated in our first Spelling Bee!

In English Language,

After our Animals and Plants unit, we played another team game of Jeopardy! In March we began our novel study on Nate the Great and a new unit on "One World." To help our reading and writing, we dove into learning about vowel teams after finishing consonant digraphs.

In Mathematics,

Once we finished learning about Canadian currency, we started a fun unit on measuring with non-standard units! We measured our height, arm span and other body parts using non-standard and standard units of measurement. We then began studying capacity and executed a lab experiment measuring
