

Grade 6 March News

Language Arts...

Students began reading their second novel for the semester, Danny and the Champion of the World. They can read some of it in school and at home. We looked at creating a TV report, especially focusing on sports reporting. Students also finished researching their chosen countries for the research reports and began writing the different sections.

Mathematics...

Students have been learning about the financial literacy aspect of Mr. Stock's reward system called "Stock Bucks." Students have learned how to save, protect, and spend money in tough economical situations, such as inflation.

Science...

I am confident that 6th grade will finish this year strong. They had a good time through the Science project days and will be completing a unit on vertebrates before Easter.

History...

Students were able to present their brochures and learn from each other. We looked at Warsaw in the 18th century and viewed some of the lasting architecture that is still a part of the city today.
