

Grade 7 April News

Language Arts...

We are eagerly finishing up our research report projects on the different US states.

Students have tackled the writing process with great determination. We are in the process of reading our novel together in class and will persevere for as long as possible.

We also just finished reading an excerpt from Anne of Green Gables.

Mathematics...

Students have been given the opportunity to return to using the CCC books. There was a time where we moved away from it but it seems that we have made a return to it.

Science...

Students are doing a great job exploring the human body. The recent project using English sentence stems in a video review of the kidney and urinary tract dissection will be completed by next class.

History...

We have been working on 20th Century topics.

Students are currently in the process of presenting information about: Fascist Italy, Nazi Germany, and Communist USSR, as well as the leaders of each place in turn.
