

Grade 2 Newsletter – May 2023 in Review

Introduction...Many fun and exciting activities happened in May. We started the month with Green School. We experienced European food and culture with the European Festival.

In English Language, we continued to use kidsa-z.com to read books at our individual levels. We have started our last novel of the year, "Aliens for Breakfast."

In Mathematics, we completed our learning of patterns. We have started to learn about graphs and data management.

In Social Studies, we learned about the Netherlands in preparation for the European Festival. Mr. Pieter led these lessons to teach us about his home. We even learned a little bit of Dutch!

In Science, we completed our study of simple machines. As a culminating project, the students designed and made a model of a playground that included at least three simple machines. The students did a great job on these projects. We had some very creative ideas for playgrounds!

In Art, we finished our study of Ted Harrison by creating our own watercolor in the style of Mr. Harrison. Also, we drew and colored cards for our mothers for Mother's Day in the US and in Poland. Finally, we painted a watercolor postcard representing Holland.

Happy May!

Ms. Sue
