

September

Grade 1: September in Review

Introduction...

We began the school year creating our own yearbooks and writing about our summer!

In English Language,

We began practice spelling quizzes, learned about forms of the verb "be," and also about adjectives and subjects! We made a comic strip and venn diagram after reading stories from our textbook.

In Mathematics,

We compared objects using superlative words. We used items from the story "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," like chairs, beds, porridge to visualize how we can compare objects by size, height, wide, length and more!

In Social Studies,

We learned ways that we are special and unique by our outward and inward characteristics. We made a crayon craft as a metaphor for how we are all different, like colors of crayons, but when they come together we are even better!

In Science,

We learned about parts and functions of the human body! We played human body dobble and practiced our fine motor skills with a game of Operation!

In Art,

We learned about the French artist Rosa Bonheur and the American artist Winslow Homer. We made an animal portrait in the style of Rosa Bonheur and a marine subject painting like Winslow Homer.

Pictures, pictures, pictures!

Happy September!
