Grade 3 Newsletter – September 2023 in Review

Introduction... Welcome to another wonderful year of learning and growing together! I am thrilled to be this class's English teacher for the fourth year! I'm also a little sad as it is our last year together.

In English Language, we are learning about modern school communities and European castle communities of long ago. This is a combined English Language and Social Studies project – “My School, My Castle”. The students are creating projects of their choosing to demonstrate what they learned; this is being done in class. Spelling quizzes on Friday continue this year with the addition of a vocabulary quiz on the same words. We are also using Kids A-Z for reading practice again this year. Kids A-Z is part of www.readinga-z.com and is an online reading program.

In Mathematics, we have been learning and reviewing number sense. We have focused on place value, rounding, and comparing/ordering numbers.

In Social Studies, we have been working on the “My School, My Castle” project.

In Science, we are learning about soil, what is in soil, and why soil is important.

In Art, we have started learning about Georges

Seurat, a French post-impressionism painter. He painted in a style called pointillism.

Happy September!

Ms. Sue
