Grade 1 Newsletter – April in Review

Introduction...

A busy month of April cultivated in our first Speaking Contest, a trip to Wilanow Palace and our second digital project!

In English Language,

We began working on our next digital project, in which we will explore a country of our choice and make our own travel brochure! We read about Yo-Yo Ma and listened to his music. We also began our second novel study! We are fantastic readers! In phonics, we learned about diphthongs and vowel teams. We took a trip to noun town reviewing proper and common nouns!

In Mathematics,

We ended our chapter on measuring solids using non-standard units, and started liquid measurement with capacity! We learned terms like empty, half full/empty and full.

In Social Studies,

We identified the type of home we live in (apartment, townhouse, one story or two story house) and named places we have in our respective communities, like grocery stores, gas stations, bakeries. We began mapping skills, too!

In Science,

We learned about the power of the sun and also its life giving properties - like heat, energy and light! We learned about the food chain and how everything is a part of the circle of life!

In Art,

We spent a sunny afternoon outside drawing natural landscapes in our own school backyard. We learned about the artist Paul Klee and made our own "bird in cat" drawing.

Happy April!
